IMPEACHMENT.

The latest report from Washington informs us that the impeachment articles have been completed and printed. They are ten in number, and were to be discussed on Monday. They all have relation to the removal of Stanton and the President's acts connected therewith, reversal of which being a violation of the tenor of office act. The excitement connected with the subject seems to be passing away, and we trust the matter will be disposed of with as little delay as possible. The trial will, without doubt extend through several weeks, and will probably be the policy of the President and his friends, if he has any, to protract it as long as possible. We shall not be surprised if a decision is not reached until after the presidential election.

Who are Responsible for Incompetence?

Messrs. Editors.—Your venerable neighbor's reply to our interrogations, which may be found in the issue of 15th ult., is a very apt illustration of the folly of the ugly cow, that furnished a full quantity of milk, but then kicked over the pail and spilled the whole. It may appear quite too severe to wash the poor beast in this comparison, inasmuch as she was satisfied with the destruction of the property she had furnished, whereas your neighbor, judging from his statements, would have destroyed pail and the milkman with it.

It is not strange, after having so fairly quoted from our article, and so fully answering the questions propounded, that he should soil the whole, by such miserable personal lies! and, equally so, while pretending to be in favor of impartial justice, urges your correspondent to pursue legal measures to help sustain his miserable hunting! If we were as "independent" as he would have his readers to understand, we should question his sincerity, and as an illustration, call attention to an article in the same issue, in which he starts out, with the assertion of his equal respect for President Johnson and General Grant, in their controversy, and then proceeds in such a manner as to anything but flattering to the latter. If self deceived in that, why not in this? And, is that should be insufficient, and we were anxious to convict himself of the very thing he would fix upon your correspondent, we would point to another of his articles, in the same paper, in reference to the removal of the General Treasurer's office; and, without note or comment refer the whole subject to the decision of an enlightened public. His attack upon the Good Templars, who availed themselves with a slight ride, without the use of liquor, is a straw not to be entirely overlooked, but which they are abundantly able to take care of, and will remember at the proper time.

Editor.—We published a day or two since, an item from the Providence Press in regard to a church meeting, without having the slightest knowledge of the facts of the case, and without knowing at all whom it referred. We are requested to state by persons interested that the report which thus found way into our column and which has been more or less current in the community has not a particle of foundation in fact.

SEATED.—The House of Representatives adjourned very suddenly on the reading of the nitro-glycerine dispatch of the New York chief of police. They couldn't have scattered more speedily if they had actually been blown up. It is to be hoped the vaults of the Capitol will be carefully guarded for the Guy Fawkes who is to set the trap.

EDGARTOWN.—An interesting revival of religion is in progress in Edgartown, Mass. Both the Methodist and Baptist Churches are favored with conversions and the interest is reported on the increase. The Congregational Church has extended a call to Rev. L. H. Angier, of Rockport, to become its pastor.

REMOVAL.—W. S. Bailey having removed his News-Dept into the Opera House building, Mr. S. A. Bates has taken possession of the stand, and is ready to furnish confectionery, nuts, and other articles in his line. Give him a call.

THE ISAAC H. BORDEN.—The shop Isaac H. Borden, which was sunk near Bristol Ferry, and the two schooners which have been engaged in raising the vessel, have been taken to Fall River by the Bradford Divers.

A large number of men have been discharged for a fortnight from the Waltham Watch Factory. Cause, dullness of business.

PERSONAL.—James Taylor Esq. a newspaperman, has just been elected President of the Young Men's Christian Association in New Bedford.

The scarcity of water, so much complained of to the northward and eastward, begins to creep close to us here. Great complaint of the lack of water is made in southern New Hampshire.

Mrs. ANNIE M. YOUNG is lecturing in New Bedford on Married Life as it is and as it should be.

BEN. BROOKS.—Another barn was burned on Saturday evening—the supposed work of an incendiary. It belonged to John O'Brien and was situated on Extension street. This is the third within a short time in that section of the city.

A young man about 16 years of age was found in the street last evening in a fit. He was taken to the residence of W. G. Peetland, Esq., whose employ he has been for a few days, and a physician called and otherwise properly cared for. I change, by Dr. Greenwell.

Both Houses of the Kansas Legislature have passed the bill permitting all qualified persons without distinction of color or sex, to practice law.

About Home.

CONFIDENCE GAME.—A week or two since a young man called at the Newspaper office, giving his name as Clarence Roberts and asking work as a printer. He stated that he had been in the Union Army during the war, and at its close had engaged in a printing office in Savannah, Georgia, from which city he had but recently come. As there was a vacancy in the office, work was given him and he took his place at once as a compositor.

If having thus established himself, it seems that the fellow went to work among the merchants about town. Representing himself as engaged in the Newspaper office, he secured credit for a suit of clothes and some other articles, desiring them at this particular time, as he said, that he might be allowed to attend the party on Thursday evening last at Assembly Hall, at which he was informed he was present. Next morning he left his boarding place ostensibly to go to work, but as subsequent developments show to take the cars for parts unknown, leaving his board bill and the tailor unpaid.

Roberts is quite a young man of good appearance and very likely, call at other printing offices and try the game again. There are a few cents due him on wages at the Newspaper office which he can have by calling and presenting his bill. We know nothing of him further than appears above.

THE FAIRMONT HOUSE.—This well known hotel is now numbered with the things of the past. Mr. Philip Rider, the present owner, has cut it up and made it into several large dwelling houses located on Brinley and Catherine streets, making a great change in the appearance of those streets in that section. The disappearance of this house, so soon after the Bellevue, shows conclusively that the hotel business in Newport is on the decline, at least so far as relates to the summer business. Most of our visitors now who remain during the season desire cottages of their own, and have them—Enough however, of the former class remain to support the remaining houses in good style, and we have no doubt but they will reap an excellent harvest as a result of the continuation that has taken place.

THE REFORM SCHOOL.—By the Seventh Annual Report of the Providence Reform School it appears that ten persons have been sent from Newport to that institution during the past year; ten boys and one girl. The whole number previously sent on was $8 ranking 99 in all since its establishment. From Tiverton there have been in all 8 minutes, from Portsmouth 5 and from Little Compton two. New Shoreham has never sent any of its juveniles to that school. The average age of the pupils from the chain on the Bank or other depository of the Treasurer authorized by law, for the amount of the same."

The tenement was adopted.

Mr. Barstow opposed the amendment and Mr. Kilton, of Coventry, moved to amend the first section, and insert in lieu thereof "twelve hundred dollars, as the annual salary of the Treasurer."
